Proposed VTSU Modalities Definitions

- In-Person: A course limited to a set location, where the instructor and students can interact in-person.

- In-Person Plus: A course where students have two options for how to engage in synchronous class meetings: by attending class in-person or by attending class remotely via Zoom.

- Hybrid: This course is split between course meetings, held at designated times, and online interactions. In some instances, students may be able to choose whether they attend in-person or remotely.

- Hyflex: A course where students have several options for how to engage with class meetings: by attending class in-person, by attending class remotely, or by using lectures and materials uploaded by the instructor to attend asynchronously.

- Online Asynchronous: This course is offered fully online. Students work asynchronously and the course has set assignment due dates.

- Remote Synchronous: This course is offered synchronously with class meetings delivered over a video conferencing platform on specified days and times.

- Remote Hybrid: This course is delivered remotely in a manner which combines remote synchronous and asynchronous online coursework. Students attend synchronous course meetings over a video conferencing platform on specified days and times.
- Telepresense: This course is offered in a room outfitted with telepresence technology at a set location on specified days and times. Students attend the course in-person with the instructor on one campus while other students attend in a classroom outfitted with telepresence technology at another campus.

CCV's Modalities Definitions

- Online courses take place 100% online via Canvas, without required in-person or Zoom meetings.

- In Person courses meet in person at CCV centers, typically once each week for the duration of the semester.

- Accelerated courses provide the same content and the same number of credits as standard courses but are delivered in a condensed time frame.

VERMONT
STATE COLLEGES SYSTEM
TRANSFORMATION

- Hybrid courses combine online instruction with limited in-person meetings throughout the semester.

- FLEX courses are online courses with flexible assignment submission, allowing students to manage their completion pace during the semester.

- Synchronous courses are delivered through a combination of online and regularly-scheduled Zoom sessions. In synchronous classes, students must attend Zoom sessions and actively engage with each other and faculty in course activities and discussions.

Questions

- How do you think about modality at the time you are registering? Is it a search criteria or filter you would use?

- How detailed and specific do the modality descriptions need to be? Is it better to have more or fewer categories?

- Does a class listed as "online" automatically make you think it will be asynchronous?

- Are there modalities you feel should be combined/are the same?

- Are there modalities you think are missing?

The Process for Transferring Credit from Prior Institution(s)

Questions

- Have you gone through the process of transferring credit from an institution outside the VSCS into the VSCS?
  - If so, what was easy and what was hard about the process?
- Have you gone through the process of transferring credit within the VSCS?
  - For example: CCV to NVU or CU to VTC
  - If so, what was easy and what was hard about the process?
- What could be done better?
- What would you like to see?
